THE PRESIDENT AND THE UNION LEAGUE .-The committee of the Union League of New York waited on President Johnson on Wednesday, and presented to him the following

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1865.—To the President of the United States:—Sir—Delegates from the Union League Club of New York, not a party organization, but united by a common principle of loyalty, we have come to pay our last tribute of love and honor to the memery of Abraham Lincoln. We have come also to assure you, as you enter upon your upprecedented task, that amid every difficulty and danger, you may rely upon the same un-wavering support that the loyal citizens whom we represent so cordially gave to your lamented predecessor.

Unexpectedly placed by Providence in a position for which the recent past affords no precedent, since President Lincoln knew not the lesson taught to us by his death and by the at-tempted murder of Mr. Seward, you are called to perfect a national policy that shall restore peace and order to the country, torn by a spirit of rebellion, which, however vanquished in arms, still aims to harrass and destroy the republic, on the one hand, by the secret conspiracies of organized assassins, and on the other, by cunning attempts, under profession of loyalty, to seize again the reins of

We are assured, sir, not simply by your words, but by what you have practically ac-complished, that you will prove yourself equal to the situation; that you will not shrink from the duties of the Executive of this na-tion, however painful. They ask no pledge or promise other than those offered by your past career, especially as Military Governor of Tennessee, which you brought back to us free and

The American people have entire confidence that what has been already accomplished by the sacrifice, from which they had not shrunk, of their sons and brothers, is not be lost in any degree by a failure on the part of the Govern-ment to execute sternly the great task of justice by the exhibition of mercy to criminals, which may be cruelty to thousands, by any concession to what you have denounced as the greatest of crimes-treason against the nation. The loyal people of New York recognize the fact that upon all who have encouraged this rebellion or extenuated its guilt; upon all who have connived at the villainies of the Golden Circle, or be-sought, in the interest of the rebels, foreign intervention; upon all who have betrayed the true-hearted supporters of the Government rests the responsibility of having prolonged the war, with its fearful waste of blood and treasure, and of having encouraged the fiendish spirit which revenges itself for defeat in the field by raids on the border, piracies by sea, riots and arson in our cities, and now by assassinations at the national capital.

We feel assured that, knowing as you do, by personal observation in your own home, the infernal spirit of this rebellion, you will never reinvest its chief agents with a political control in the States which they have ruined; that you will never permit our loyal countrymen of the South, nor the new class of citizens created by this war, whose fidelity and courage have assisted so prominently to crush the rebellion, to be punished by subjugation to the very traitors from whose unexampled treason they have saved the country. The resolution of the club that appointed this committee declared unanimously their belief that the assassination of Abraham Lincoln would intensify the solemn conviction of the American people that the rebellion, and slavery, its cause, must be terminated by the strong arm of the land without delay, hesitation or compromise, instantly, absolutely and forever.

In behalf, sir, of our Association and our selves, we reverently invoke upon your Administration the favor of Heaven. And we have the honor to subscribe ourselves faithfully and respectfully, your fellow country-Jonathan Sturges, Charles Butler, James W. Beckman, Theodore Roosevelt, Frank E Howe, John A. Weehs, George Cabot Ward, Otis D. Swan, Parker, Handy! C. E. Detmold, Legrande B. Connover, Samuel

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY. The President replied as follows: Gentlemen:-In reply to you, and through you, to the organization which you represent.

I can only say, as I have said to others, that our encouragement is peculiarly appropriate at this time. I have been thrown into the position I now occupy by circumstances that you are all familiar with. There has been a great deal done; there is a great deal to do of a complex and difficult character. The circumstances which have occurred are saddening to us all, and no one appreciates them more deeply than I do. But just the other day our President was in the midst of life and the confidence of his countrymen; now he has been removed to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. Under these circumstances I am called to occupy a post of peculiar peril. When we look past, and then turn and try to understand the future, we see how much I need the encouragement which you tender in behalf of those you represent; and if I know myself I am profoundly grateful for it, and return you my hearty thanks.

You have referred to my past history and my connection with this rebellion. In reference to that I can only say that the policy which I have indicated heretofore will be my guide in the future. The idea that justice shall be observed is one which has strongly impressed me, and I must be permitted to remark that the time has come when the nature of crime should be understood in this country, and that, too, by the great mass of the people. We have defini-tions of crimes in the law books, and penalties are affixed to them. We know that perjury is a crime, that arson is a crime. We know, too, that murder is a crime. All these are crimes. and have penalties affixed. When we look at the present murder, the present assassination, and trace it back to its source, no one can be mistaken as to the spirit from which it ema-

There is no one but would say, in reference to the individual who has perpetrated this infamous, this diabelical, this barbarous act, that he must suffer the penalty annexed to the offense. Then, it you would say this, that the assassin of a single individual, the murderer of a single man, must suffer the penalty of death. what should be inflicted on him who tries to assassinate a nation, and take away its We must consider the nature of the crime and the demands of justice, and not the misery, woe or ruin of the individual who is guilty. We must look at it in the exercise and carrying out of stern, inflexible justice. The time has come for us to understand that treason is a crime, the highest of crimes; in other words, that all erimes are submerged in treason, and he who has committed treason has committed all crimes.

Please accept my thanks, gentlemen, for the encouragement you have given me, and the aid you offer. Though the task may be difficult, I appreciate it, with an honest and sincere reliance on that Power whose guidance in this struggle is so manifest to us all. No one can doubt that an overruling Providence has controlled the destinies of this country. We may talk of the ability of men, but the progress of this rebellion has shown that they are only instruments in the hands of God. If I know the honest impulses of my heart, when the time comes to act upon measures that come before me, though I may not have the same ability and talent as some, if a hearty obedience to conscientious conviction is worth anything in the administration of the Government, you shall have it. I thank you again, gentlemen, for what you have said, and trust you will bear my thanks to the organization you repre-

Messrs. T. B. Florence, Dr. Charles Allen, F. A. Aiken, William Flinn, F. A. Clampitt and W. J. MONUMENT TO ABRAHAM LINCOLN -The public feeling of veneration for the character of the martyred dead is expressing itself in the form of a desire to raise a public monument to his name in this city.

Among the numerous offers to contribute to that end is a generous one by Lansburgh & Bro, 7th street, who propose to give $500 towards any fund for the erection of a monument to Abraham Lincoln in the city of Wash-

INQUEST .- Yesterday morning, Coroner Woodward held an inquest at a wagon park, near the Eastern Branch, on the body of John Jones, one of the colored teamsters, who died on the previous day at his wagon very sud-denly. The evidence before the jury was to the effect that he received his dinner as usual at noon, and went to his wagon, not being seen again until about five o'clock, when he was found in a dying condition. The jury returned a verdict of death from causes unknown.

FALSE SWEARING .- Mary Biersack was held to bail for court yesterday by Justice Miller for falsely and maliciously swearing that Margaret Gruber tore down the drapery from the front of Mr. Wigger's house, on D, near 13th street. The Justice says he has seen enough to convince him that much of the troubles between women in his judicial district grows out of revengeful feeling and false swearing, and has determined to try to put a stop to it.

OBITUARY.—Our dear young friend, JAMES LEROY BERRYMAN, who was but yesterday cut down in the very prime of life, will ever live in the memory of those who knew him. He was a young man of spotless character. He possessed a spirit of meekness, of amiability, and of integrity, which beautified his life and endeared him to all with whom he was acquainted. He was a dutiful with whom he was acquainted. He was a dutiful son and an affectionate brother, and was ever willing to lend an assisting hand to any who was in want. Above all, he was a Christian—his trust was in the Lord; and while we think of his life, of his kindness of disposition, of his true and noble heart and honesty of purpose, we can but say he was an example worthy to be followed; and now, though his body is cold in death, we feel that his spirit is happy with the redeemed above.
